

Trademarks Notice

Company Name

Ogab or Air Edge or Advanced TRS are our trade names or name under which we conduct business, and, when used in that context, never requires the ® or ™ designation. When referring to Ogab or Advanced TRS or Air Edge as a company name, with or without the “Ltd” or “Inc.,” do not include a trademark designation.

Trademarks

Ogab or Advanced TRS or Air Edge are also a registered trademark that is used to distinguish products and services. As a registered trademark, it should be designated with the ® symbol (i.e. Ogab®).

Our trademarks may not be used by third parties without express permission from Ogab Ltd. To obtain permission, please contact us at info@ogab.co.uk.

Genuine descriptive references to our product or service names are limited to text-only references and must be truthful, must not disparage Ogab, and must not be misleading or otherwise cause confusion. You must not create any false impression as to Ogab sponsorship, affiliation or endorsement of/with your company or products/services.

General Guidelines

Please ensure you adhere to the following rules of use in connection with any legitimate use of or reference to any of our trademarks. The following is not intended to waive any of Ogab’ rights including any rights reserved to Ogab in its agreements with third parties:

- When a product/service is referenced, ownership by Ogab must be attributed on the page/screen where the reference appears, or in the legal notices section of the communication or site in which it is referenced.
- All of our report names include the name Ogab and all references to our reports and publications must display the name correctly, with the name Ogab in the title.
- Our product and service names should be differentiated from surrounding text. For example, “For more information about the Ogab ® service...” or “For more information about the Ogab technology”
- The proper symbol for registered trademarks is ®. It is your responsibility to ensure that registered marks are denoted as such and that you do not use the ® symbol incorrectly. The proper symbol for product names which are the subject of pending applications or are used in accordance with common law trademark principles is ™. You should position the applicable designation immediately after the trademark to which it applies.

- You must not create or display any unauthorised version of the Ogab logo.
- Translations of our trademarks are not permitted.
- You must not incorporate any of our trademarks into your company's product names or otherwise connect your company name with us or any of our product names without express permission from Ogab Ltd.
- Do not use our trademarks as a noun or verb, in the possessive form or in the plural form. Instead use trademarks to describe the service, platform or price in question, for example the Ogab ® price.

Below is a listing of some of the core trademarks owned by Ogab Ltd. The list is intended to provide notice of the trademarks which are registered in (where followed by ®) or which are trademarks or common law marks used in (where followed by ™) the United States. However, all of the trademarks listed are registered and used in one or more other countries and the list is not intended to be exhaustive. Please note that laws concerning use and marking of trademarks or product names vary by country.

Ogab®
Advanced TRS®
Air Edge®
Sustainable Braking™
Sustainable Driving™

All of our publication titles and index names are also trademarks of Ogab Ltd. To the extent that a name or logo does not appear on the list above this does not constitute a waiver of any and all intellectual property rights that Ogab Ltd or its affiliates has established in any of its trademarks and logos.

Improper Use

In the event you see or become aware of any unauthorised or improper use of Ogab' trademarks, or if you want additional trademark information, please contact us at info@ogab.co.uk
